

No mortar. Only stones holding each other.

Marta

Group E · Lina, Omar, Paul, Ariel, Rodrigo, Sultan

TRUST BUILDS PSYCHOLOGICAL SAFETY. HOW DO LEADERS BUILD TRUST?

Ask

Listen

Act

Tell

Every leader is told: listen.

Next →

No mortar. Only stones holding each other.

Marta

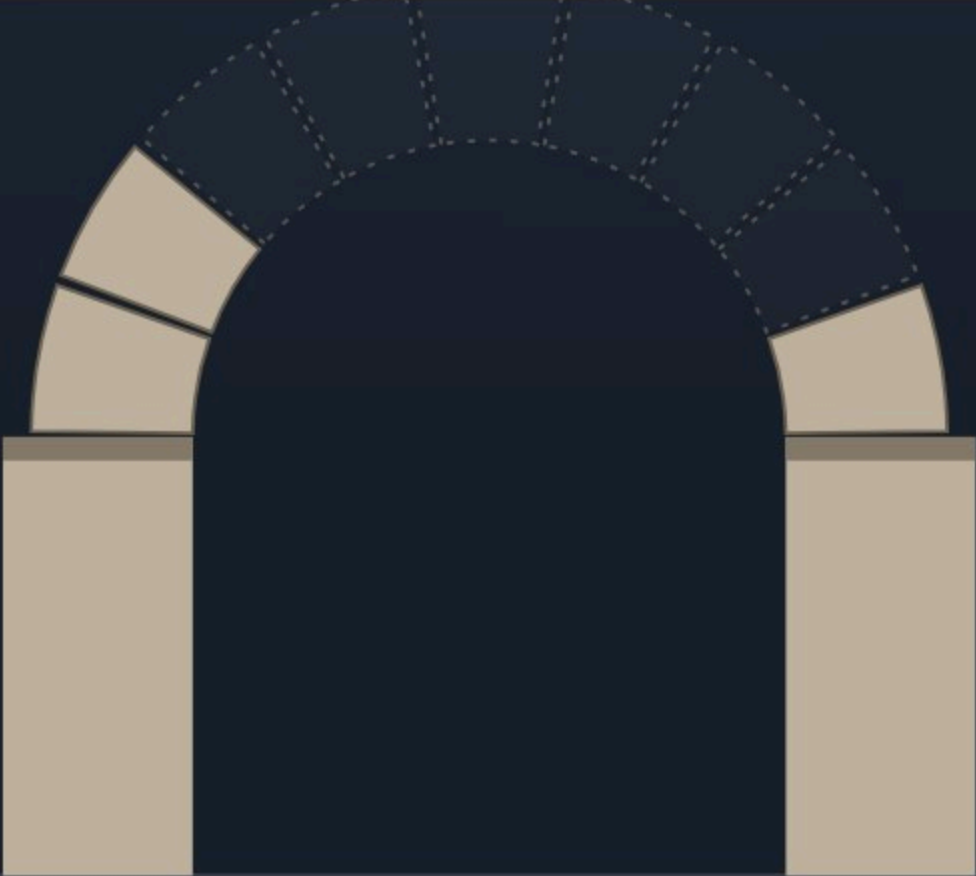

TRUST BUILDS PSYCHOLOGICAL SAFETY. HOW DO LEADERS BUILD TRUST?

- Ask
- Listen
- Act
- Tell

Every leader is told: listen.
But some people don't speak unless you ask.

“The questions we ask influence what people notice, discuss, and believe is possible.” · Appreciative Inquiry

Next →

No mortar. Only stones holding each other.

Marta

TRUST BUILDS PSYCHOLOGICAL SAFETY. HOW DO LEADERS BUILD TRUST?

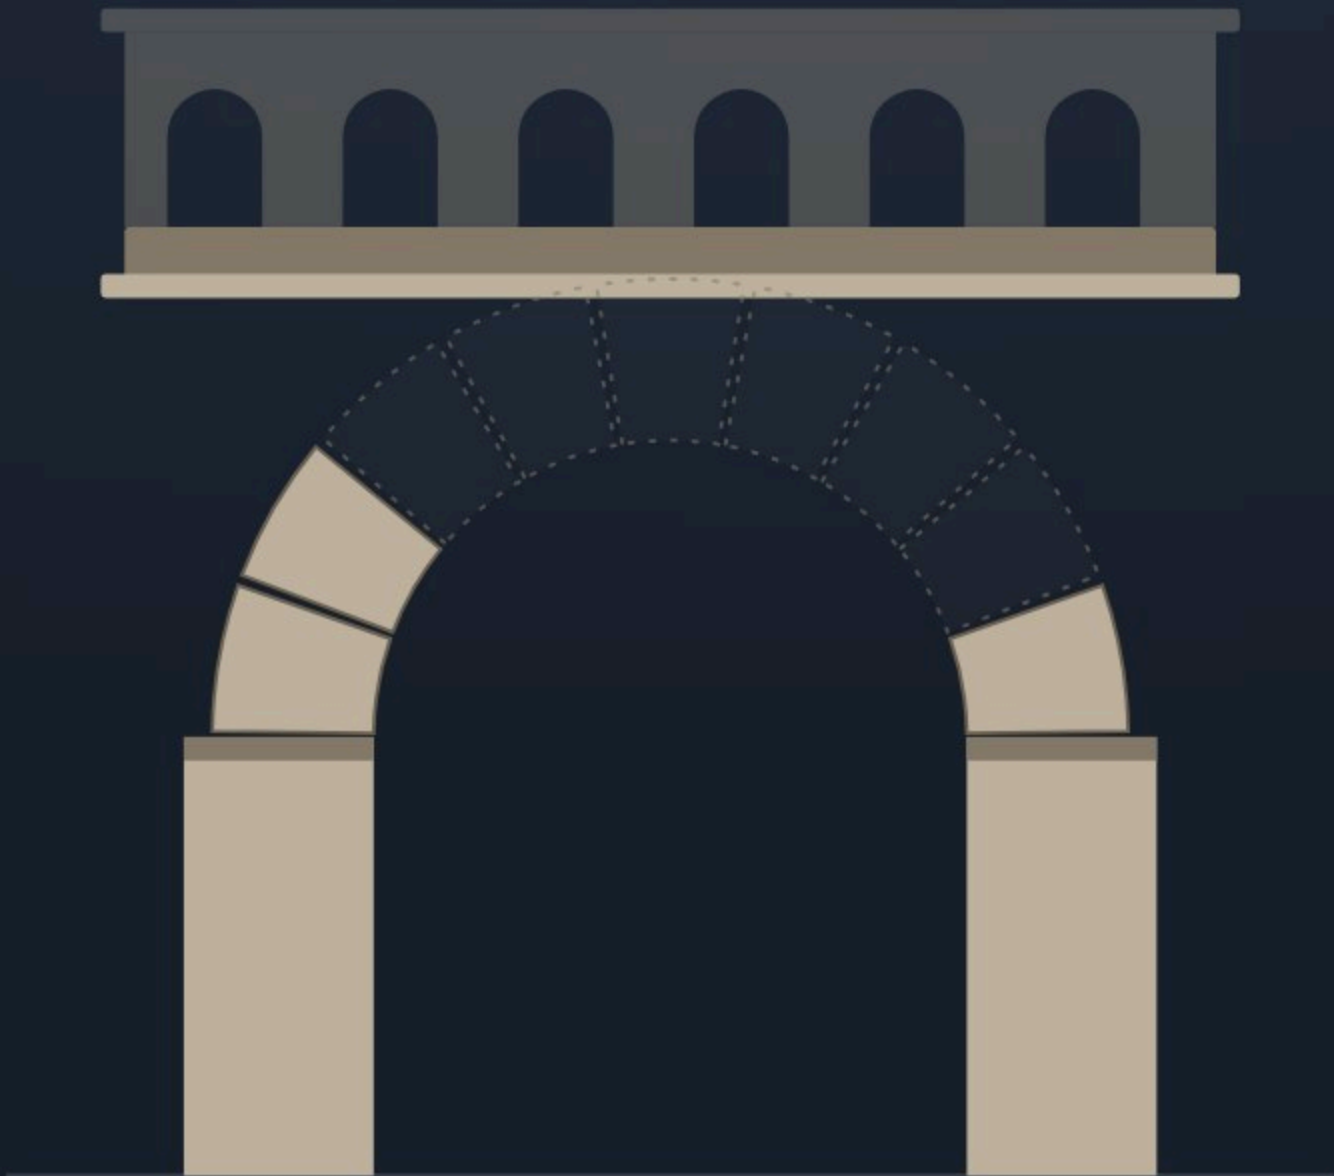

- Ask
- Listen
- Act
- Tell

Every leader is told: listen.
But some people don't speak unless you ask.

And if you don't act and tell,
they never speak again.

“Asking without acting erodes trust faster than not asking at all.”
· Workplace Wellbeing Practices

Next →

No mortar. Only stones holding each other.

Marta

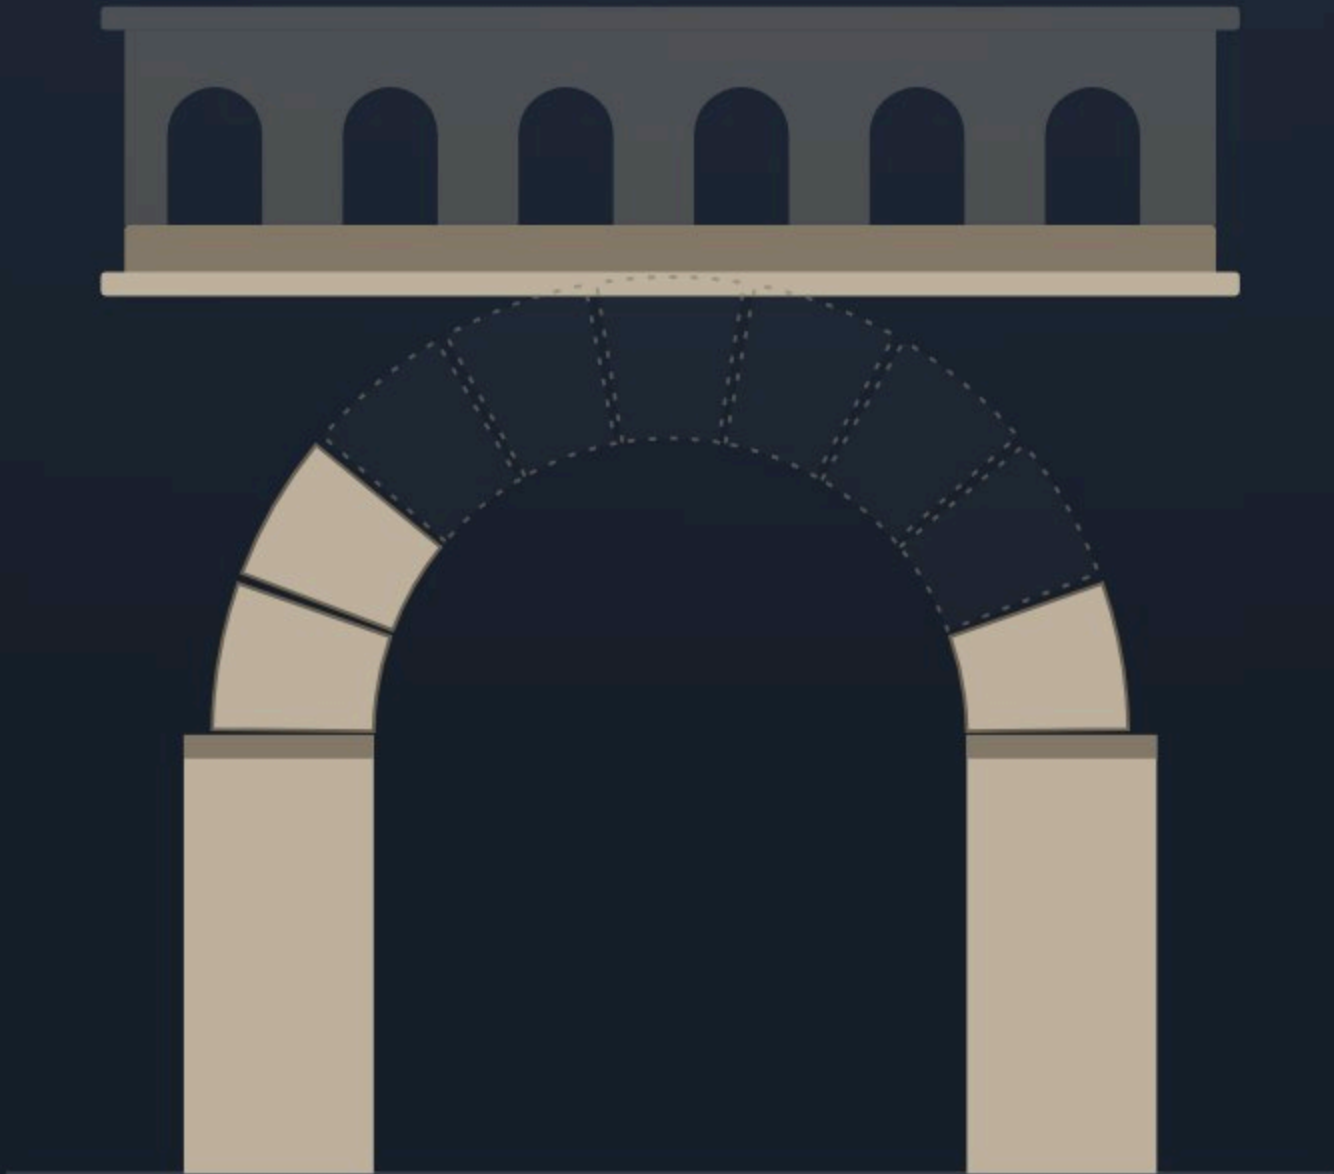

A GAME ABOUT ACTING ON FEEDBACK

Build the Aqueduct

Segovia's aqueduct has stood for almost 2,000 years without mortar. Every stone carries the next one.

- 3 sliding door moments. You ask, your team answers.
- 4 ways to react. The room votes with 1–4 fingers.
- 9 stones complete the arch.

Start

No mortar. Only stones holding each other.

Marta

ROUND 1 OF 3 · SLIDING DOOR: CHALLENGING THE STATUS QUO · VOTE NOW

In your 1:1 you ask Marta: “What should I do differently?”

MARTA · SENIOR ENGINEER

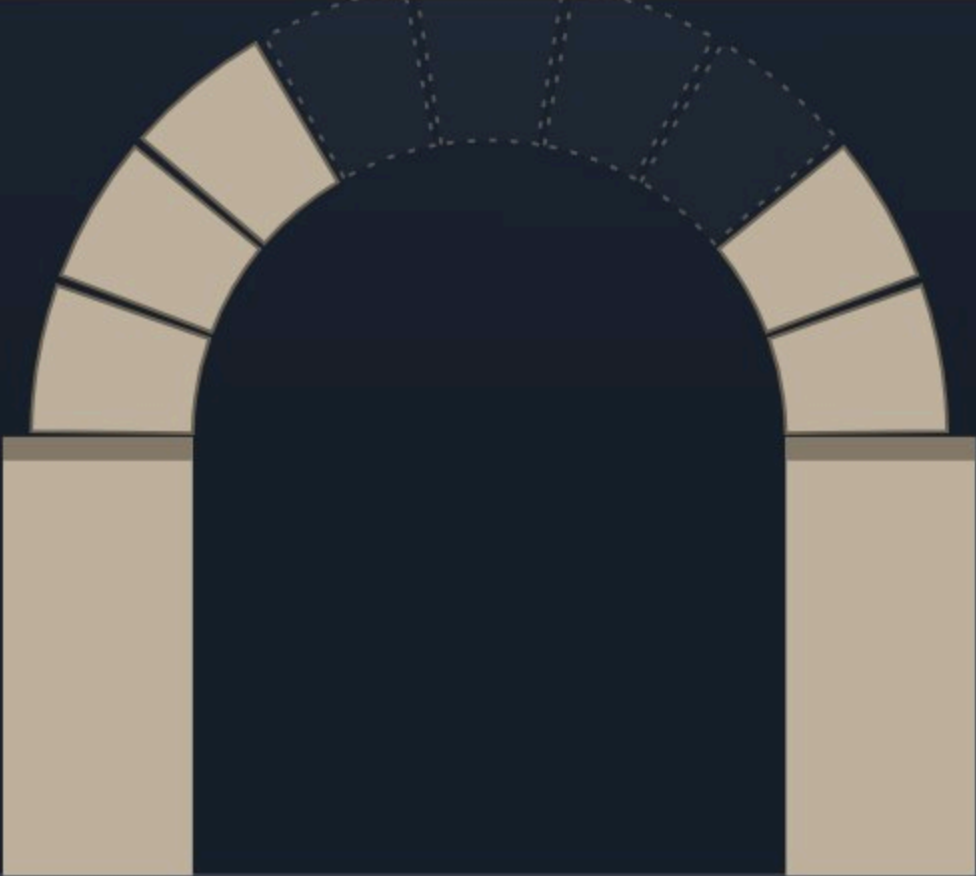

I don't feel I can disagree with you in meetings. You've decided before we talk.

1 From tomorrow, ask for everyone's view before you give yours.

2 Change how you run meetings, and at the next one say why.

3 Explain you always ask for input. Encourage her to speak up more.

4 Thank her warmly. Tell her this is really useful to hear.

No mortar. Only stones holding each other.

Marta

ROUND 1 · THE ROOM CHOSE 2: ACT AND TELL

1 Act, don't tell

From tomorrow, ask for everyone's view before you give yours.

2 Act and tell

Change how you run meetings, and at the next one say why.

3 Defend

Explain you always ask for input.
Encourage her to speak up more.

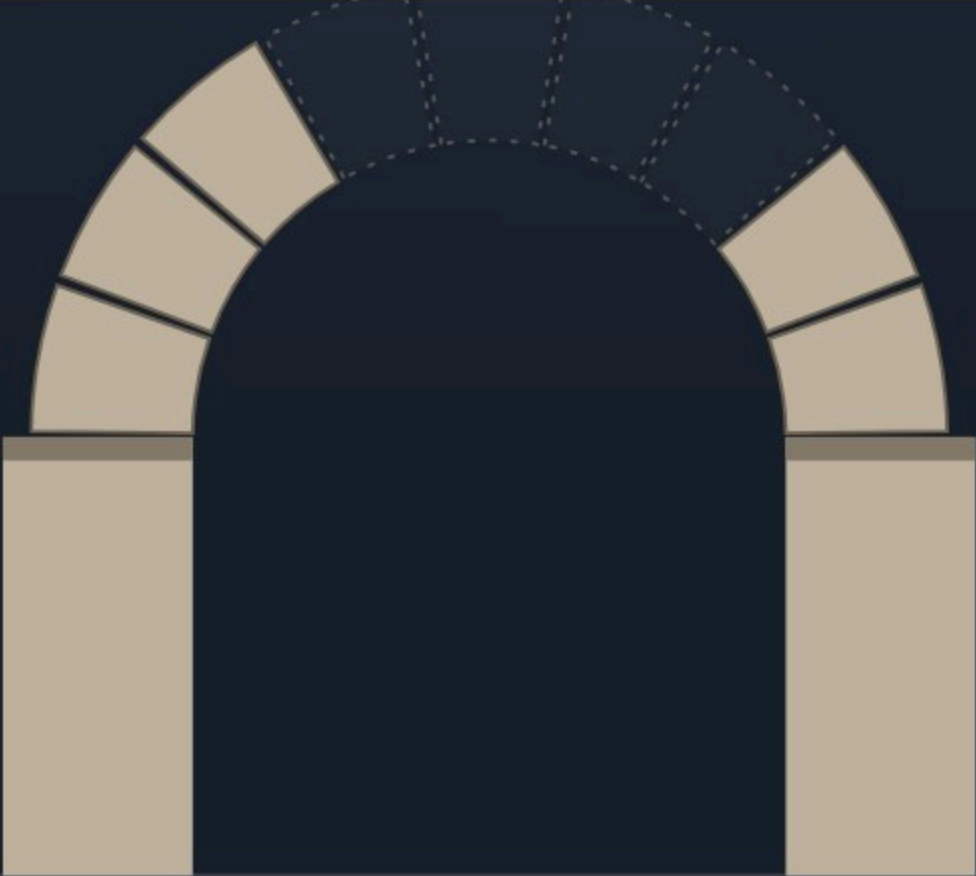

4 Listen only

Thank her warmly. Tell her this is really useful to hear.

+2 stones

Marta sees her voice changed something. Two stones.

Two weeks later →

No mortar. Only stones holding each other.

Marta

Rui

Two weeks later. Marta disagrees with you in a meeting. That's the point.

ROUND 2 OF 3 · SLIDING DOOR: SHARING AN IDEA · VOTE NOW

In the retro you ask the team: “What slows us down?”

RUI · DESIGN ENGINEER

Our daily stand-up runs 40 minutes. It eats my best focus time.

1 Agree it's long. Promise to look at it after the release.

2 Show him the data: since daily stand-ups started, rework is down.

3 Cut it to 15 minutes, credit Rui, and check in two weeks if it works.

4 Cut it to 15 minutes, starting Monday.

No mortar. Only stones holding each other.

Marta

Rui

ROUND 2 · THE ROOM CHOSE 3: ACT AND TELL

1 Listen only

Agree it's long. Promise to look at it after the release.

2 Defend

Show him the data: since daily stand-ups started, rework is down.

3 Act and tell

Cut it to 15 minutes, credit Rui, and check in two weeks if it works.

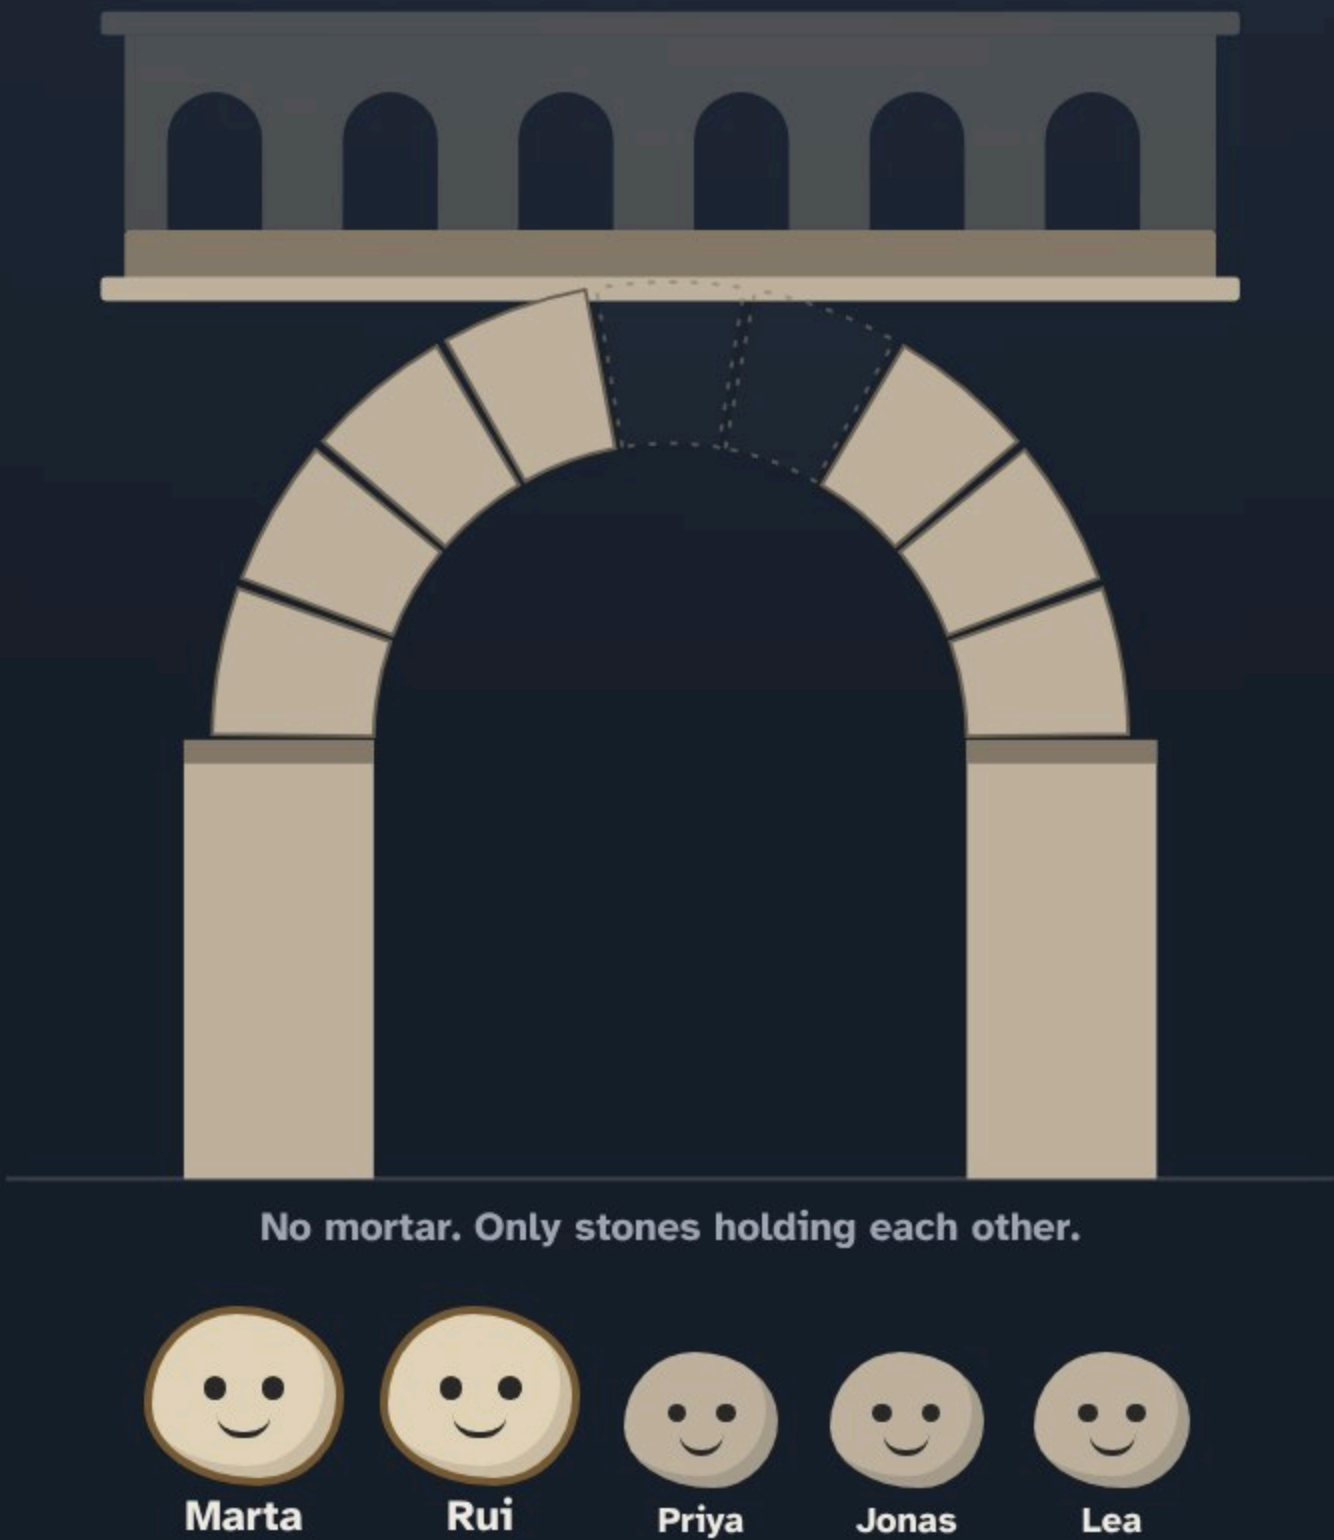

4 Act, don't tell

Cut it to 15 minutes, starting Monday.

+2 stones

Rui learns feedback is safe and useful. So does everyone watching.

Two weeks later →

Two weeks later. Jonas and Lea join. They see feedback lead somewhere, and speak up from day one.

ROUND 3 OF 3 · SLIDING DOOR: ADMITTING A MISTAKE · VOTE NOW

You ask Priya: “Is there anything you've been holding back?”

PRIYA · GRADUATE ENGINEER

I made a mistake on the drawings last week. I was afraid to tell you.

1 Thank her at the team meeting for raising it, share the new review step.

2 Add a second review step to the process.

3 Reassure her: it's fine, everyone makes mistakes.

4 Find out who reviewed the drawings, so it doesn't happen again.

No mortar. Only stones holding each other.

Marta

Rui

Priya

Jonas

Lea

ROUND 3 · THE ROOM CHOSE 1: ACT AND TELL

1 Act and tell

Thank her at the team meeting for raising it, share the new review step.

2 Act, don't tell

Add a second review step to the process.

3 Listen only

Reassure her: it's fine, everyone makes mistakes.

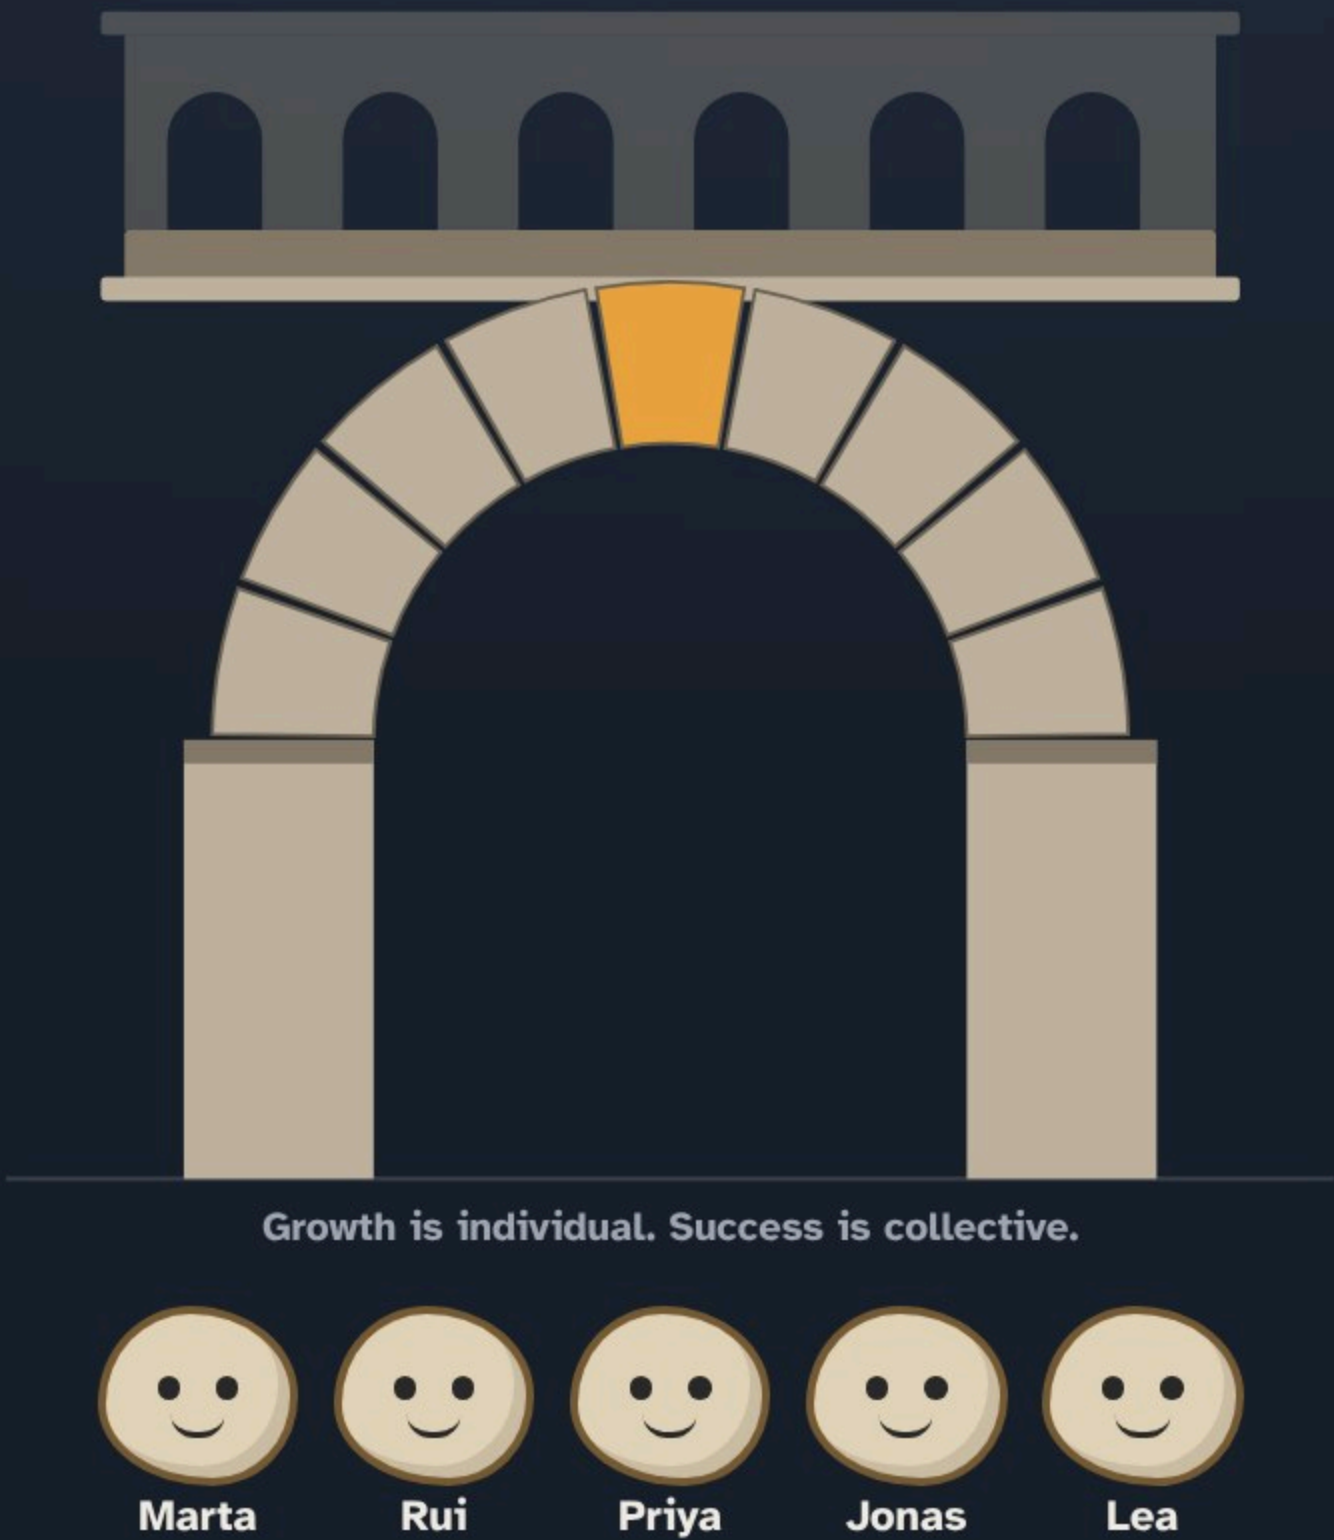

4 Defend

Find out who reviewed the drawings, so it doesn't happen again.

+3 stones · others joined in

Admitting a mistake just became the normal thing to do here.

See the arch →

9 OF 9 STONES

The arch stands.

- Ask 3/3
- Listen 3/3
- Act 3/3
- Tell 3/3

People don't speak if you don't ask. They stop speaking if you don't act and tell.

“Trust is built in very small moments.” · Brené Brown, in Psychological Safety

This week Name one person. Ask what you should change. Act on one thing. Then tell them what changed.

Thank you. Group E · Lina, Omar, Paul, Ariel, Rodrigo, Sultan

Play again

Gaps where voices used to be.

Marta

Rui

Priya

Two weeks later. Priya never hears what happened. Next time, she waits. A stone cracks.

6 OF 9 STONES

The arch can't close.

Ask 3/3

Listen 3/3

Act 3/3

Tell 0/3

People don't speak if you don't ask. They stop speaking if you don't act and tell.

“Trust is built in very small moments.” · Brené Brown, in Psychological Safety

This week Name one person. Ask what you should change. Act on one thing. Then tell them what changed.

Thank you. Group E · Lina, Omar, Paul, Ariel, Rodrigo, Sultan

Play again